

Associations between children's diet quality and watching television during meal or snack consumption: a systematic review.

Short running title: watching TV whilst eating reduces diet quality

Amanda Avery*, Catherine Anderson, Fiona McCullough, Division of Nutritional Sciences, School of Biosciences, University of Nottingham, Sutton Bonington, Nottingham, LE12 5RD

*author for correspondence amanda.avery@nottingham.ac.uk

Co-authors; Catherine.anderson@nottingham.ac.uk; and Fiona.mccullough@nottingham.ac.uk

Author Contributions;

AA, CA, and FM designed the study. CA led on the data extraction and data analysis with FM and AA agreeing on papers selected and data interpretation. CA prepared the first draft and AA updated and prepared subsequent drafts, FM critically reviewed the manuscript.

The work was supported by a summer studentship awarded to CA, by the University of Nottingham's Dean of Science, and supervised by AA and FM.

There are no competing interests.

Word count; 5258 (abstract 248); References – 45; 3 Tables & 1 figure.